WHEN THE RED AND BLACK CHEERED

COLLEGE FOOTBALL GIVE

COLONY TO THE GAME

By Coach Brusse, Salt Lake.

I think we played the better game and we should have won. I am satisfied with the work of the boys, as they played good football. We were handicapped by being in our first game. With the experience gained today, the high school will go through with flying colors.

By Coach Brown, Ogden.

I was sure before the game that I had a winning eleven. The only difference made by the game was to make my opinion a fact. Moran is the best quarterback in the state. Every man on the team played football and played it hard and we earned the victory with our two touchdowns.

Ogden High school, 10; Salt Lake High school, 0. By the narrow margin of one point the Orange and Black of the Ogden High school waved triumphant over the Red and Black of Salt Lake when the final call of time came in the great gridiron struggle seen on Cummings field yesterday afternoon. Two touchdowns against a touchdown, goal kick and kick from placement accounts for the points and the struggle was just as close as the score indicates.

To a great little quarterback Ogden owes her victory, while Salt Lake's touchdown was also made possible by the work of her quarterback. Two times did Dan Moran, Ogden's quarterback, get loose. Once after intercepting a Salt Lake forward pass he ran 75 yards for the score, and in the other on a quarterback run he made 60 yards, placing the ball on Salt Lake's six-yard line from where it was shoved over.

For Salt Lake Fitzpatrick, on a quarterback run, made 55 yards to Ogden's five-yard line and Oleson carried it over.

Outside of the three long runs neither team could gain on straight football. Salt Lake making first down but six times and Ogden five in the entire game. In the first two quarters of play Ogden managed to keep the ball in Salt Lake territory nearly as much as Salt Lake had it in Ogden's. Starting the last two quarters, however, the superior kicking ability of Marsh for Salt Lake kept the play in Ogden territory exclusively. While on the defensive, Ogden staved off all efforts of the Red and Black to gain on straight football. It was two tries at the line or ends and then kick and the program was the same on both sides. Outside of the three long runs it was a punting duel. Salt Lake's gains on the exchange of punts gave her the ball within striking distance of a goal kick, and four times in the last quarter tries for goal from placement were made, but the points that would have won were still denied the Red and Black.

Taking away the extra yardage gained by the kicking, Ogden played even with Salt Lake. Neither could gain on the offense, but on the defense Ogden's line held the better. Salt Lake runners were thrown repeatedly for a loss, while Ogden at least made the line and the Orange and Black line held the better for kicks.

Moran's Great Runs. Dan Moran made a name for himself that will live long in Ogden High school football annals. His two runs were as brilliant as have been seen on Cummings field. Boyer, at fullback, also starred for the Junction City. While Smith, Ogden's lanky center, was in every play and stopped many a Salt Lake attack at 50-yard line and the Tommy Fitzpatrick, playing with a crippled shoulder, made some spectacular dashes in the line.

Ogden's quarterback, who yesterday made two brilliant runs on Cummings field which made the victory of the Orange and Black possible. In one of his spectacular dashes, Moran ran 75 yards for a touchdown, and in the other he placed the ball on Salt Lake's six-yard line, from where it was carried over.

To Fitzpatrick, who has been doing the forward passing, gave that important duty to the halfbacks and their inexperience restricted the use of the play. Salt Lake's Handicap. The handicap of the first game was, however, Salt Lake's chief drawback. Presented by the Ogden cohorts after play with the other eleven in the state, a more rounded-out eleven will be seen in the next game and the Red and Black will profit by the experience, although a costly one.

A more joyous crowd of rooters than presented by the Ogden cohorts after the game would be hard to imagine. But they had won fairly and on merit and the justification was coming to them.

Referee Tobin was called upon to inflame the game and the first time work was good, showing for the first time this year the importance of the referee's job, as well as of his many responsibilities.

The Lineup. Ogden. Salt Lake. Goode, L. E. Whitmeyer, Marsh, J. E. Sample, Naylor, J. E. Smith, Caldwell, J. E. Smith, Wallace, J. E. Anderson, Yates, J. E. Checketts, Wilson, J. E. MAY WALK ON THREE BALLS NEXT SEASON

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Reduction of the number of called balls entitling batters to first base, from four balls to three, and a revival of the earned run, are among the changes being considered by baseball magnates for the betterment of the game before another season rolls around.

That the earned run will be restored to official good standing as a partial means of determining the relative standing of pitchers in the American league, it is asserted by officials now in this city, is practically assured. Whether or not it is brought back to life in the National and other organizations, the officials of the league will make the revival and the duke single-handed because it is a matter affecting the official scoring and tabulation of pitchers' records, but not the playing rules.

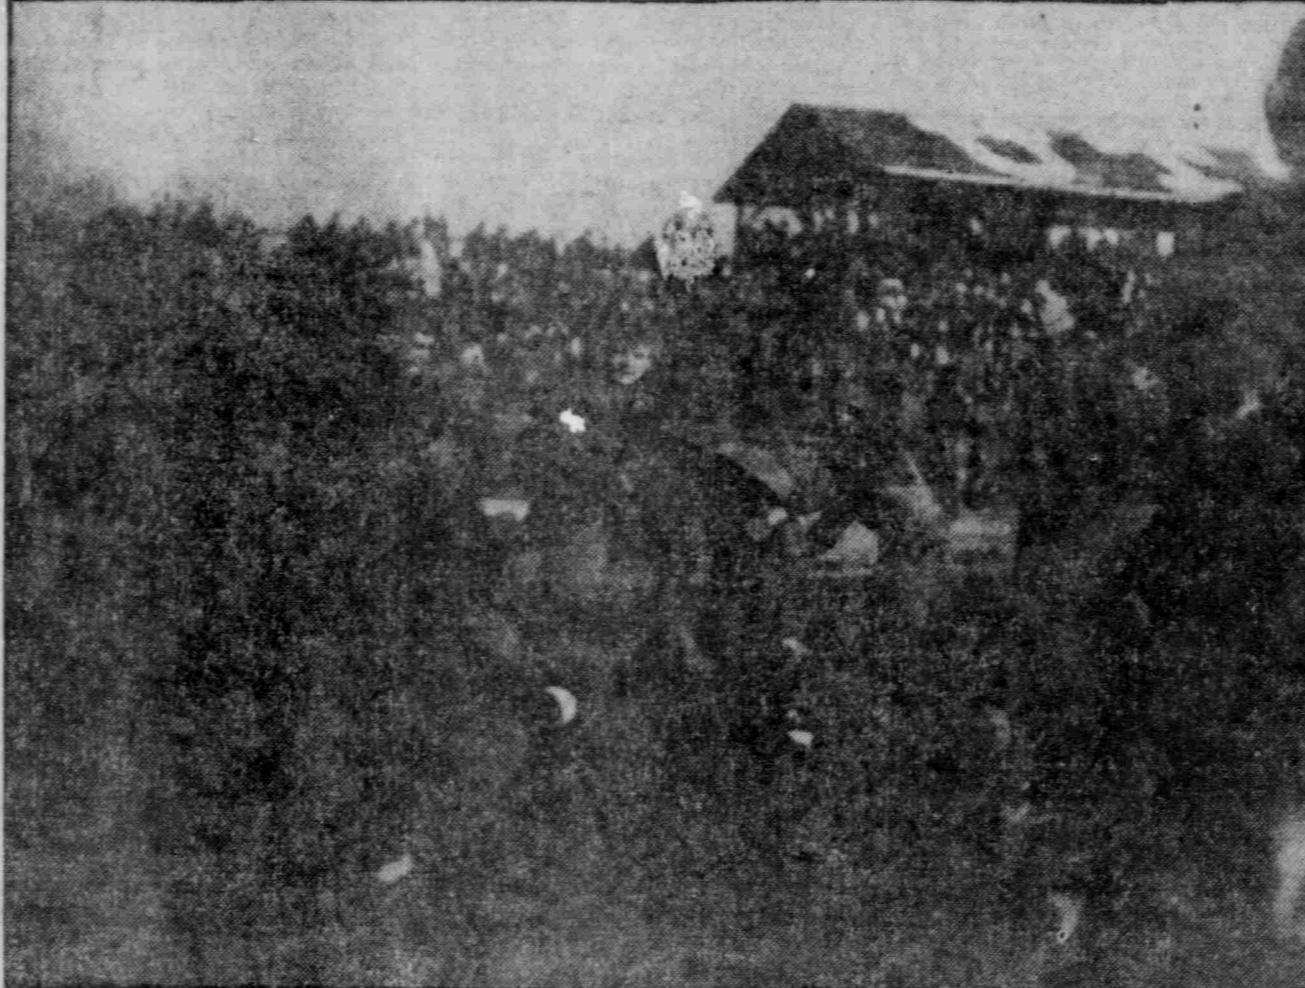

The reduction of the amount of waiting a batsman will have to do to get a base on balls is a different proposition, as it will require concurrent action by both major leagues.

GRANITE FRESHMEN PUT ONE OVER SALT LAKE

The Granite High school freshman team defeated the Salt Lake High school freshman team yesterday afternoon by a score of 49 to 0.

Had the game lasted the full four quarters the score would have been larger.

Granite's skill in handling the forward pass was exhibited throughout the game. Its goal was never in danger. The game was fast from start to finish, the Granite boys carrying the ball down the field for long gains.

Oleson Goes Over for Touchdown.

INTERCOLLEGIATE GOLF ASSOCIATION FOR WEST

Chick Evans Head of Move to Keep College Experts Busy in Middle West.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—With the actual playing season over, the main thing which attracts the young golfers in Chicago now is the organization of a western intercollegiate golf championship. Evans, who has started commencing with golfers in western universities and hopes to make arrangements whereby he will get representative gathering which will have authority to go ahead with the work of organization.

The project has been discussed for a number of years, but has never before been so near realization.

It is expected that the western intercollegiate organization will be officially recognized and sanctioned by the Western Golf association in the same way as the Eastern intercollegiate is recognized by the United States Golf association. The national body furnishes the cup for the eastern play, and it is likely that the W. G. A. will be willing to put up a prize for the western students.

The western tournament would be conducted along the same lines as the eastern, with the individual championship and team play.

Among some leading western players, Evans, who is expected to go into the movement, are Paul Hunter and Kenneth Lindsay of the University of Chicago, Harry Kimball, Kenneth Layman and Harold Wyatt of Wisconsin, Phil Stanton of Michigan and Lynn Johnson of Minnesota.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.)

Denver, Colo., Oct. 29.—Fumbling at critical times, aided by loose interpretation of the new rules, caused the defeat of Utah by Colorado university this afternoon on Union gridiron. Two field goals made from difficult points by the trusty Rich and a touchdown netted Boulder eleven points. Utah failed to tally once.

From the moment that the Red and White appeared on the offensive it was apparent that they had far the better new style formations. The double and triple passes followed by the forward pass outclassed for its part the new style game that Colorado could offer, but at critical moments Utah players failed to hold the ball and it was their ineffectiveness in this department more than any one feature that caused their final defeat.

The state variety, on the other hand, used nothing but straight football, but so surely and powerfully did they tackle and so well did they hold on to the sphere, once it was given to them, that they were enabled to gain considerably against the Mormons. The Utah line held well, but the ends were unable to stay the onrush of the powerful Boulder back field.

The Boulder backs used the old style "hands on" play in their attacks and, while they were and powerfully did they tackled and so well did they held on to the sphere, once it was given to them, that they were enabled to gain considerably against the Mormons. The Utah line held well, but the ends were unable to stay the onrush of the powerful Boulder back field.

The first score was made toward the close of the first quarter. It followed repeated fumbles on the part of Utah and lightning-like recoveries of the ball on the part of the Colorado ends who played a remarkably fast game throughout.

With third down in sight, Richardson finally punted out from his 25-yard line to Rich, standing on the Utah 40-yard line. The Boulderite signaled for a fair catch and the sphere came down right into the arms of Hartman holding for him. Rich followed his catch with a perfect field goal of 21 yards. The tremendous crowd of fans went crazy with excitement as the sphere sailed right between the posts.

Twice again, almost immediately afterwards, the kicking star of Boulder tried for goal, but each time the sphere went wide and the quarter ended with the ball in Utah's possession.

The second quarter opened in the same way as the first, both sides were fumbling frequently, but the luck favored the Colorado boys.

It was not until the end of the period that Colorado began to get real football. Then, with the ball on Utah's 25-yard line, Colorado was penalized 15 yards for holding. Two line smashes and a forward pass advanced the leather to the 16-yard line. Carmichael and Hartman gained 10.

Utah tried an on-side kick. Utah fumbled and Colorado recovered. In the next scrimmage McPadden went over for the only touchdown of the game. Colorado lost its chance to kick goal on the punt.

In the third quarter, with several changes in the line-up, Utah settled down and it appeared for a time as if the Mormons would "come back." Punting became the rule, both Richardson and Rich sending the ball for long distances. Finally, after falling from the 8-yard line, Rich made a fair catch on the Utah 45-yard line, and with the wind against him, made a perfect punt, his second of the day and the final score.

After that Utah started in to mow down the Colorado line. Punting and scrimmage, they finally got the ball to Colorado's 19-yard line as the quarter closed.

In the fourth quarter a straight back for Utah failed to gain much and the forward pass was signaled. Romney executed a perfect pass, but the latter fumbled after making the catch and Colorado recovered the ball on the yard line. It was Utah's last opportunity to score.

It was getting dark and from that time on punting was resorted to frequently with little effect.

The Line-Up. Colorado. Utah. Mills, J. E. Sommers, Dean, Cooper, J. E. and Riser, Crouter, J. E. Young, Davernport, J. E. Nelson, Gardner, O'Brien, J. E. Christensen, Andrus, J. E. Home, Gilligan, J. E. Carmichael, Hartman, J. E. Grant, O. Romney, Rich, J. E. L. Romney, McPadden, J. E. Bennion and Sommers.

Summary.

Officials—C. Henry Smith, Brown, referee; Jack Caldwell, Chicago, field judge; Grant Stuart, Dartmouth, head linesman. Touchdown—McPadden, field goals—Rich, 2. Time of periods—15 minutes each.
